

The Star Series: Glass

Humans have been fascinated by the celestial body since the beginning of time. Every time, when we look upward in the middle of the night, we see those self-luminous stars that makes us wonder and appreciate this marvelous universe. This array of galaxies have captured the imagination of many poets and writers throughout history. Our human experience has been greatly enhanced by it. Puccini has come up with this new series called the “Star” and hope that our customers can find the imagination to incorporate this glass mosaic into his or her home decoration.
